Unusual Conditions Make Many Money-Saving Opportunities

The extreme lateness of the season and the unsettled weather conditions have played havoc with prices, and have made the overstocked manufacturers and importers doubly anxious to dispose of their stocks. We have been heavy buyers during the past week. and in nearly every instance getting just what we wanted, and at our own prices, too. This means many price changes, and money saving for you. In every instance these goods are new and fresh, and just such as immediate or near future wants will demand; their prices tell an interesting tale of saving for you in every instance. A look and a comparison of quality and prices is only necessary to make you a ready buyer.
